Edmund G. Vanden Bosche

A.B., M.S., Ph.D.

Professor of Biochemistry

Chairman of the Committee on Admissions

There is a certain dignity about Dr. Vanden Bosche that we sense on our interview day and the many days after. It is the dignity of a man dedicated to the teaching of neophyte dentists giving them of his knowledge and above all his friendship and advice when they are needed most.

Who else has a ready word and a friendly smile for all who encounter him on his journeys through the clinic? Many former students practicing dentistry throughout these United States have shared these thoughtful gestures.

God grant you many more fruitful years, Dr. Vanden Bosche, and for your encouragement and inspiration, we, the Class of 1956, dedicate our yearbook to you.

IN MEMORIAM

NATHAN B. SCHERR, D. D. S

Dr. Nathan B. Scherr, '22 (U. of Md.), of Baltimore, died on March 19. Born in Baltimore on November 25, 1899, Dr. Scherr entered the School of Dentistry after his graduation from the Baltimore City College. In 1934 he began his long association with the faculty of his alma mater, holding the rank of Instructor of Pedodontia. During the past several years illness had forced him to reduce his teaching from a half-time to a part-time schedule. At the time of his death he held the rank of Associate Professor of Pedodontics. He was a member of Alpha Omega, Omicron Kappa Upsilon, and Gorgas Odontological Society. Dr. Scherr was a highly capable clinician and had appeared on the programs of the Baltimore City Dental Society, the Maryland State Dental Association, the District of Columbia Dental Society, and the American Dental Association. As a teacher he was thorough and effective in his methods and enjoyed the enthusiastic regard of the hundreds of students who came under his instruction. He contributed strength to the faculty during his period of service and was warmly respected by his colleagues. Dr. Scherr is survived by his wife Mrs. Anne Sandy Scherr; and his son Jack; two brothers: Alfred and Henry, of Baltimore; and five sisters: Mrs. Mickey Barnstein, of Baltimore, Mrs. Edwin Lazarus, of Baltimore, Mrs. Samuel Shapiro, of New York, Mrs. Nathan Friedenberg, of Baltimore, Mrs. Amelia McVey, of Wilmington, Del.

A Message to the Seniors

What to do, when to do it and why do it have occupied your time here. You were screened, moulded and refined. You were lectured to, demonstrated to and supervised. All too often you had someone with whom to consult and someone to guide you.

Now you are on your own!

With your predental education concepts were introduced to you. With your dental education these concepts were broadened. Behind you are the many hours of basic sciences and dental techniques, together with their applications to clinical practice.

This is not the end, but the beginning.

Your very success is dependent upon carrying out the principles and traditions indoctrinated in you while studying here.

Our very best wishes to you. Farewell scholars — welcome alumni.

Distinguished Graduates

WILLIAM WASHINGTON HACKETT THACKSTON

There is an inscribed, bronze tablet mounted on a stone at Longwood College in Farmville, Virginia that marks the site of the home of Doctor William Washington Hackett Thackston, one of our earliest and most distinguished graduates. Doctor Thackston matriculated during the years of 1841 and 1842, receiving his degree from the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery in June of 1842.

Whenever momentous changes need to be wrought in history nature fortunately supplies us with men to effect them. In the middle of the nineteenth century, dentistry as a profession was struggling to establish itself. During this critical period men like Dr. Thackston stepped forth and brought to dentistry the intelligence, education, and social sense, coupled with inventiveness and mechanical ability, so essential to give dentistry the right to claim the title of "profession."

Dr. Thackston was born in Prince Edward County, Virginia, on Leap Day of 1820. At the age of twenty-one he entered the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. The beginning of a fruitful career could be seen in his choice of thesis subject, "A DISSERTATION ON THE DISEASES OF THE MAXILLARY SINUSES," which was published in The American Journal of Dental Science of June 1842.

After graduation Dr. Thackston opened an office for the practice of general dentistry in Farmville, Virginia. In the same year, 1842, he founded the Virginia Society of Surgeon Dentists and was elected to membership in the American Society of Dental Surgeons. Over the years he was a notable and prolific contributor to the American Journal of Dental Science. In 1850 he gave to the profession the Thackston Drill, which for many years was routine equipment for the opening of cavities in molar teeth.

Dr. Thackston's demeanor as a professional man was impeccable. His high ethical standards and his readiness to express them did much to raise the prestige of dentistry. He came to be known as "the Chesterfield of the Dental Profession." Never too busy to engage in any activity that would promote his profession he was elected in 1854, President of the Association of Alumni of Dental Colleges.

With the coming of the Civil War he saw his duty and followed it, enlisting as a private in Company "D", 3rd Regiment of the Virginia Reserves. He was assigned by William Carrington, Medical Director of the Department of the Confederate Army, to serve as dentist at the Hospital in Farmville.

Service to his state and region was exemplified by his election as President of the Virginia State Dental Association from 1872 to 1877 and again in 1887, and as President of the Southern Dental Association in 1887. Always ready to help dentistry move forward he served as a member of the first Virginia State Board of Dental Examiners in 1886.

Age did not diminish his efforts in behalf of his chosen profession and at 70 he delivered the annual address at the 1890 meeting of the American Academy of Dental Science held in Boston on November 12. Realizing also his civic duties he served as Mayor of Farmville in 1888 and 1889.

On December 8, 1899, after a long and fruitful life death came to Dr. Thackston, who through his efforts had helped to raise dentistry to the professional status it enjoys today. After 57 years of practice he was laid to rest in his chosen home of Farmville, leaving behind an indebted and enlightened profession.

It seems only yesterday that one hundred and ten students climbed the three flights of stairs to the financial office to pay a bill which was entitled "School: Dentistry Class: Freshman." Now, having paid our last tuition, we are suddenly realizing that the long-awaited day of graduation is soon to be a reality.

Looking back over the curriculum, parts of which we thought to be illogical and unimportant at the time of participation, we now appreciate the need for such basic, knowledge-impregnating courses. Even at the beginning of our clinical work we found that we had to draw upon this previously gained education for facts that might answer actual patient problems. We also must be grateful to our educators who, in their "unjust" manner, instilled into us the content of their respective courses. Yes, we finally can visualize the need for a program designated to mold us into dentists who would be able to face their professional future assuredly with the knowledge and understanding befitting such individuals.

Now that all of our days at the B.C.D.S. are at an end, we look forward to the professional years ahead of us, not with complete uneasiness, but with that warm confidence in the back of our minds that we have the best attainable training in the dental field. For this contribution, we, the seniors of 1956, would like again to thank our alma mater and wish it a continuance of greatness in the future years.

Dr. Louie certainly has a broad educational background: Lignan University, B.S. . . . Stanford University . . . Northwestern University, M.S.D., D.D.S. Possibly it was this background that created the wit that accompanied the sharp explorer during the sophomore operative lab.

The Class of 1956 is proud to extend to you, Dr. Louie, this measure of our esteem.

In the fall we returned. Ready, eager and nervous. For two years we had anticipated the day when we would begin to operate on patients. The clinic at last! Through the halls echoed the cries: "My jacket's too long!" "Where do you put all this equipment?" "What do I do next, Doctor?" "I can't get any patients. How will I finish by June?" However, the confusion of the first few weeks soon resolved itself as we began to learn our way around. And the cries changed: "Stood up again!" "Who has a chair at 3:00 they're not using?" "I'll never finish by June."

Because of our preoccupation with the clinical aspects of our work, it took a round of exams to remind many of us that the classes are also an important part of a Junior's life. Nevertheless, with all the worry, there was time for fun and relaxation. Saturday night nearly always saw a party of some sort, and the major event of our social season—the Junior Class Dance—was a huge success.

Suddenly it was spring. Requirements only half completed. Hurry! Hurry! "I need gold work." "You think you got troubles?" and "I'll never finish by June." But finish we did—just in time—and though we complained loudly and often, we wouldn't have had it otherwise.

On September 19, 1955 the doors of a once futuristic world opened and 102 new faces began the Sophomore year. To their credit they had taken and digested all which had been imparted to them. The knowledge gained in the Freshman year was neatly filed in its place. Operative, Bacteriology, Physiology, and Prosthetics were heaped upon us. The segments of the preparative process were also assimilated and combined with previous knowledge.

We are becoming Dentists! This one thought begins to unfold in our minds. Pontics may crack, foils may come loose, and lab reports may have to be redone—in spite of all, we are becoming Dentists.

We have progressed from the embryo stage as Freshmen, through the infant stage of the Sophomore year. We now prepare to enter the adolescence of our life work. Ahead lies the adult period as practitioners. We realize the importance of the next two years at school in the maturation process. Keep your eyes open at the B.C.D.S. Watch the Class of '58 develop.

From the large and the small states, the Class of 1959 entered the dental school with 108 boys and 2 girls included in its enrollment. At the welcoming address by Dean Aisenberg, we embarked on our training of thirty scheduled hours of theoretical and practical learning in Anatomy, Biochemistry, Histology and Dental Materials. With the helpful guidance of both faculty and upperclassmen, we hurdled the first lap of the year, and eagerly anticipated our second semester.

March brought a recovery from February exams and a period of expectancy until Easter vacation. The year wasn't all work, however; for we became acquainted with the School of Nursing and Goucher College, and we were well represented at all the school dances. The second semester also promised more social activity, with fraternity rushing and our own Freshman Dance, at which we played host to the other classes.

The Freshman Class emerged from its first year of dental training proud of our progress and accomplishments, and grateful to the members of the faculty who guided us. With our year now completed, we are anxious to begin the Sophomore year.

The Interfraternity Council is composed of nine members: the four fraternity Presidents, a delegate from each fraternity, and the President of the Student Senate.

This past year has been one of progress for the I.F.C. The Interfraternity Council Award was inaugurated, a Bowling Tournament was held, the I.F.C. constitution was revised and new rushing rules were adopted. Many other important changes were made.

We hope that the spirit the I.F.C. has generated will continue to further good relations among the various fraternities as well as to promote a higher degree of professionalism, academic standards and faculty-student relationships among all fraternity and non-fraternity men alike.

GORGAS ODONTOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Membership in the Gorgas Odontological Society signifies outstanding academic achievement and leadership in our School and in our profession. Each year, invitations for membership are given to those Juniors who stand in the first thirty percent of their class.

The Society, formed in 1916, is named in honor of Dr. Ferdinand J. S. Gorgas, an outstanding graduate of our School who was a widely recognized leader in the field of dental education and a very important contributor to the literature.

Monthly meetings afford members educational opportunities not presented in the curriculum.

Social activities, as well as educational, are enjoyed periodically throughout the school year. Foremost among these is the Spring dinner-dance, when Junior members are awarded keys, and certificates are presented to Senior members.

A Tip for Better Prophylaxis

PY-CO-TIP

The tip developed as the ideal for stimulation of interproximal spaces

Two years of research and extensive investigation went into the development of Py-co-tip. The high quality rubber is finely balanced for flexibility and stiffness to stimulate blood flow in the gingival areas. Py-co-tip is preferred by more dentists than any other brush-affixed stimulator.

THESE FEATURES MAKE PY-CO-PAY WIDELY ACCEPTED

- Straight, rigid design
- Small, compact head
- Bristles uniformly trimmed
- Proper tuft spacing
- Scientifically designed tip

For effective cleansing, massage and stimulation, prescribe

Amm-i-dent

WITH FLUORIDE

gives TRIPLE protection against caries

FLUORIDATED • AMMONIATED • ANTI-ENZYMATIC

(SODIUM FLUORIDE) (HIGH-UREA) (SLS*)

Super Amm-i-dent combines all three of the recognized methods of reducing tooth decay: fluoride to harden the enamel making it more resistant, high-urea to penetrate to the pulp and diffuse slowly to the surface to maintain an elevated pH, and SLS to adsorb to the enamel and plaque to keep pH above decalcifying level throughout the day and night.

No other toothpaste combines these features in a safe, stable form. Only Amm-i-dent offers protection, effective cleansing, and refreshing foaming action. Super Amm-i-dent is a cool icy blue in color and has a wonderful new flavor!

You can recommend Amm-i-dent to your patients with confidence, use Amm-i-dent yourself with pleasure.

A Few Words About

COLUMBIA DENTOFORMS . . .

From a humble start 36 years ago, Columbia Dentoforms have played an increasingly important role in dental education. Today, every dental student in the United States and Canada "cuts" his first teeth on Columbia Dentoforms, for we supply Dentoforms to every dental college in the United States and Canada, as well as in many other lands.

In these 36 years, there have been many improvements and additions to Dentoforms to meet the ever more exacting demands of teachers. Today, Dentoforms number more than a thousand and present conditions that the student will encounter in practice. And in graduate years, Dentoforms continue to help clinicians in postgraduate education and to help the busy practitioner in his endless task of patient-education by showing the better dentistry he seeks to give.
